

AGENDA

 Thursday, October 4, 2018
2:00 - 4:30 p.m.

 Freight House
421 W. River Drive Davenport, IA 52801

 Register for FREE
foodrescueqc.org/workshop

2:00 p.m. Welcome & Opening Remarks

Pete Vogel, Food Rescue Partnership Board Chair

2:15 p.m. Food Waste Problems & Efforts

Dan Nickey, Iowa Waste Reduction Center, University of Northern Iowa

With years of waste reduction expertise, Dan will showcase why wasting food is such a problem and the effects it has socially, economically, and environmentally.

2:35 p.m. Panel: Food Rescue through Donation

Chris Carton, The Adler Theater/River Center
Jeff Holder, Panera Bread
Lauren Clapp, Augustana College

Many establishments throughout the Quad Cities have already implemented donation practices as a way to reduce food waste and help feed those that are food insecure in our community. Learn what they donate, where they donate, and how you can get started using similar strategies.

3:15 p.m. Keynote: Food Rescue through Source Reduction and Donation

Matt Finnegan, Baked Beer & Bread Co.

Learn how an experienced Quad Cities Chef rescues food through source reduction by monitoring food purchasing and controlling waste by utilizing food to maximum use, as well as through donation to local non-profit organizations. All while sharing strategies to engage and motivate employees in food rescue efforts!

4:00 p.m. Members of Food Rescue Recognition & Closing Remarks

Pete Vogel, Food Rescue Partnership Board Chair

